ARIZONA. The Murderous Apaches. Tombstone, December 3d .- An unparaleled exploit upon the part of the Apaches s reported from Willcox to-day. The report comes well authenticated and indicates hat the Indians are becoming more and more insolent and audacious in their irreponsible and unpunished career of massacre. Last evening rumor reached Willcox that Duncan, N. M., had been attacked by dians. Duncan is a small mining camp of about 200 inhabitants, near the line of New Mexico and Arizona. This mornin Phomas Higgins arrived at Willcox from

Duncan, bringing the news of a wanton and unprovoked attack on that peaceful hamlet about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A band of ten or twelve Chirichuas rode past Duncan, and making the route lead us near as possible to the unsuspecting camp, opened fire on it, and one man, his name not given, was killed by this attempt wholesale assassination. This attack omewhat new in practice upon the part of he Apaches, who have heretofore given ven the smallest camps a wide berth, con ning their atrocities to isolated ranches nd mines. Apparently they have not only come desperate in their savage work, bu ook upon their murders in a practical way et with impunity and fear no retaliation ANOTHER PHASE OF THE DUNCAN AFFAIR. Concerning the Duncan affair, reports om Lordsburg differ from those received rom Willcox. It is stated that a running ight between the Apaches and the cowboy took place, but no one was hurt. One of the cowboys, however, straying from hi companions, was killed. The Apaches fired at the section hands of the railroad, but did not hit any of them. That section of

WASHINGTON TERRITORY. Question Summarily Settled

SEATTLE, December 3d.—The dispute regarding the disposition of the twenty-five Chinamon smuggled from British Columbia was brought to a close vesterday by summary action on the part of the United States authorities. The case has excite wide attention. It will be remembere that these Chinamen were found som months ago on a rock in the straits of Fuca where they had been abandoned by the master of a schooner, who had been at-tempting to smuggle them into the United States. They were brought before the United States Commissioner, and the Marshall was ordered to escort them back to British Columbia. The authorities of that province, however, refused to receive them without the payment of the $50 head them without the payment of the $50 head tax required by the Canadian law. The Marshal accordingly returned with them, and they have since been confined in the United States Penitentiary at McNeill's Island. On Monday last they were brought before the United States Court here, and Judge Greene instructed United States Marshal George to escort them across the boundary line and leave them in British Columbia, without regard to the protest of the British Columbian authorities. Marshal George according oian authorities. Marshal George accord-ngly took them to Semiahmoo, a town near the boundary line, and then escorted them across the line and two miles into Canadian territory. They were turned loose there, having previously been supied with provisions for several days. The eathens started at once for New Westinster, having no desire to return to the United States.

The Oroville Register calls for the abolition of the Teachers' Institutes. We suggested the same thought the other day, and now second the motion of the Register. The Institutes are of little value, because they are systemless. Because they are held so infrequently. Because trained teachers, educated for the purpose by the State in her Normal Schools, enjoy no er privileges under the Institu than those teachers who are the product of controlled in the Institutes by Superintendents who hold the offices by political favor, and frequently are incompetent to should be. Because, also, the attendance upon these Institutes is compulsory, and by fully one-half the teachers they are considered an insufferable bore, to be ecturing theorists to talk at the teachers. Because, finally, they have not, during their existence, shown good fruits worth the mentioning. We would give more for monthly assemblies of teachers in cities, and quarterly meetings of teachers outside of cities. Such councils might be of some

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

General Crook's Annual Report. Washington, December 3d.—Brigadiereneral Crook, commanding the Department of Arizona, in his annual report, describes at considerable length the cir-cumstances which attended the outbreak of the Chiricahuas under Geronimo, Mangus and other chiefs, last spring, and declares, substantially, that want of harmony between Agents, the Interior Department and the military makes such outbreaks possible. He says that upon returning to the Department of Arizona, in 1882, he found the Apaches huddled about the Agency. There was no land for them to cultivate. The Indians complained of this, and the agent, Mr. Wilcox, acknowledged the justice of the complaint, but said he was acting in strict compliance with his orders in keeping them there. He said, however, that if General Crook would take he whole responsibility of their manageilled. "This whole matter," writes General Crook, " was fully understood before I | Montana started for the Sierra Madre. Imagine my surprise, when I reached the border, on my return from the Sierra Madre with a portion of the Chiracahuas as captives, to that the Agent had telegraphed to Washngton, protesting against their being rought on the reservation." Soon after ward General Crook was ordered to Washgton for consultation, and in his presnce, after full discussion, a memorandum he Interior, by which the police control of the entire reservation was vested in the War Department. "The scope of this control," he says, "was thoroughly discussed, and as thoroughly understood, not only by myself but by other persons present, viz., the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of Indian Affairs. The idea that the authority which I had already exercised on the reservation, simply as a matter of neces sity, was to have been in a degree lessened limited, was never even hinted at. On the contrary, my duties and powers were agreement expressly recognized and made of record, and were exercised and entwo years. Upon this express understand-ing, I made myself responsible for the peace and quiet of the Indians. For more han two years there was not a single dep edation by the Apaches, and it was for the first time in the memory of white men that so long an interval of peace had been en-oyed in Arizona and New Mexico. As I ave said before, up to this time the Indian Department seemed only too willing to ave me manage the entire Indian bus ness, giving me most hearty co-opera-tion, and I certainly could not con-ceive that with the added danger of the Chiricahuas there would be any less degree of co-operation. Months afterwards, it appears, that on the very day the above reement was entered into the Secretary f the Interior wrote to Agent Wilcox, in erms which must have convinced him that leither he nor the Commissioner of Indian Affairs were in accordance with my view as to the Indian management, and at the me time saying that the agreement was a make-shift, to relieve-them from respon-sibility, and transfer it to my shoulders S. P. Maslin has returned from the result was inevitable, and on the 12th of omplaining to the Interior Department with reference to the agreement—that is of the Indians, and left little to sustain his on. I have no knowledge of the conents of the confidential communication between the Indian Department and it agent, but as a sequel I find that early in the December following, in less than fifteen onths, the Commissioner of Indian At irs, in a letter to the Secretary of the Inrior, takes the ground that the agree ilitary officers were to have supervision the police regulations on the reservation f the Indian Agent. With this action of the Interior Department officials at Wash ngton it is not to be wondered at that the angers of a divided control and want o operation should become manifest. In December, 1884, Agent Wilcox was relieved, and Ford was appointed in hi place. The new Agent worked in har-mony, but by the middle of January he ook another course." General Crook rend Mrs. E. B. Crocker returned from San ported the matter, and asked that his ad nistration be sustained, or he be relieve of responsibility. He was instructed, pending the conferences between the two De ing the conferences between the two Departments at Washington, not to interfere with the farming operations of the Indians, who are not considered as prisoners, and was informed that the question of relieving him must, in the public interest, be held in abeyance for the present. Thereupon General Crook wrote the Additional Control of the present of the control of the present of the part of the pa atant-General a letter, the concluding paragraphs of which are as follows As the right of control has now been with rawn from me I must respectfully decline be any longer held responsible for the ehavior of any Indian on that reserva-ion. Further, I regret being compelled to ay that in refusing to be relieved of this sponsibility (as requested in my letter of nuary 20th), and at the same time taking from me the power by which these Indian have been controlled, and compelled to en gage in industrial pursuits, the War De partment destroys my influence, and doe an injustice to me and to the service which I represent." The outcome of the matte as the appointment of Captain F. E. Pierce, of the First Infantry, as Indian Agent at San Carlos, and the dangers from the divided responsibility were at an end. The Presidential Succession. ding trip by the 2:50 p. m. train, a large party of friends, especially young ladies, assembling at the depot to bid them good-Washington, December 3d.—It is now ite evident that the death of Vice-Presi ent Hendricks, in the absence of the elec on of a President pro tem. of the Senate will cause the passage, early in the next sion of Congress, of the Hoar bill, pernamently fixing the Presidential succes-tion. This bill, which, in the event of the eath, resignation, inability or removal on the President, bestows the succession upor he different members of the Cabinet, beginning with the Secretary of State, passed the House for lack of time to consider So far as can be learned, none of the Republicans who originally voted for the Hoar bill will refuse to support it now, be-cause, by the death of Mr. Hendricks, the Republican party is for General Logan to nominate Mr. Edmunds, and for Mr. Sherman to second it. Neither of the latter want the place, or should want it. It is of no earthly use as a means to advance of no will vote to pass the Hoar bill whenever i s brought before the Senate. I voted for but looking at the subject from a purely political point of view, I think one of the greatest evils that could befall the Republican party would be to secure a brief tenor of executive power through the death of President Cleveland. Indianapolis, December 3d.—The will of the late Vice-President Hendricks was probated this afternoon. It is in Mr. Hendrick's handwriting, and the paper is yellow with age. It reads as follows:

I. Thomas A. Hendricks, of Marion county, Indiana. do make this my last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all wills by me at any time heretofore made. I give, bequeath and devise to my beloved wife. Eliza C. Hendricks, all my personal and real property, of every description whatever, and wherever located; also, all my rights, claims, causes in action in fee simple, to have the same, to her and her heirs forever. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and, if agreeable to her. I desire that she shall be executrix thereof.

Signed and delivered in our presence, and attested by us, in the presence of testator, and in the presence of each other, at his request, August 8, 1866.

Referring to Senator Stanford's promise of reduced freight rates to the California Fruit Growers' Association, the Weekly tonished at this revelation of power.—[The "The California theory of the Globe. extent of the Eastern fruit markets requires some important modifications. The act is that but for the blind greed of the middlemen this market would be supplied copiously from neighboring sources. of dealers, not content with reasonable profits, has practically killed the popular demand for fruit. Should California competition, operating through an exchange controlled by the fruit-growers of that Site compel lead of the controlled by the fruit-growers of that Site compel lead of the controlled by the fruit-growers that State, compel local dealers to lower Savage their rates of commission, the result would pe, not to give a market to the Pacific coast, H. & N. ut to demonstrate the abundance and excellence of home produce. Facilities for transporting, which would render serious the rivalry on the part of California vineyards and orchards, is impossible. With eitrus fruits there is, perhaps, a better prospect. California can beat Sicily in oranges already, and may some day compete on equal terms with Florida. It will not, however, do for the California fruit-growers to put to much faith in the illimitability of the Factorian of the Eastern market, and all hopes of controlling this market for pears, grapes and small fruits are simply illusory. and small fruits are simply illusory.

In the past the means employed to preserve California fruit have been but partly successful and comparatively few of the samples placed on exhibition here have tropical fruit which comes to us after a sea voyage three times as long. Most of the California fruit has thus far been absorbed by the great West. Very little has found its way beyond Chicago. Whether there arket for all such products as can stand the test of Eastern discrimination Southern supplies already established remain to be seen. We do not think that southern California oranges are as yet fit to compete with those of Florida, but that question will quickly be determined when the fruit comes together in the Eastern market. California fruit-growers have a great future before them, perhaps, but they must understand thoroughly that before they can possess our markets they must conquer them, and that victory in all such enterprises is simply a question of the survival of the fittest."

Contagious.

I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an out-door patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pains in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. Finelly I completely lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and was treated at Roosevelt in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospitals.

I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial. I took six bottles, and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life.

New York City, June 12, 1885.

In March of last year (1884), I contracted blood poison, and being in Savannah, Ga., at the time, I went into the hostital there for treatment. I suffered very much from theumatism at the same time. I did not get well under the treatment there, nor was I cured by any of the usual means. I have now taken seven bottles of Swift's Specific, and am sound and well. It drove the poison out through boils and well.

The Immigration Association of Northern California is now preparing to issue the December number of the "HOME SEEKER." It is to be enlarged, and fully illustrated with lithographic views of Northern California. It will contain practical information of the resources and advantages of the Northern Counties. All the proceeds of this publication will be devoted to the carrying on or immigration work. We appeal to the business men of the Northern part of the State to give it their advertising support. By so doing, the work of bringing an increase of population to the State will be carried on. At Ogden a copy will be put in the hands of each incoming passenger. In addition to this, several thousand copies will be dis-tributed on the trains leaving Chicago, n order to attract the settler intending to settle in other States and Territories.

THE FRUIT QUESTION.

Proposition to Cut Down Apple and Pear Trees in New England.

New York, December 3d.—The retail fellow citizens again to-day. But oh, docdealers here charge large prices for all kinds of fruits, but the price paid to the growers hardly pays even those living near the city for gathering and shipping the fruit. The consequence is that immense quantities of "No; only last year. He spames McCaulay's election "He will get well, mad small fruits are going to waste in Eastern orchards. At a recent agricultural society him meeting in Massachusetts, Dr. Loring, exCommissioner of Agriculture, advised the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers to follow his example and cut down their apple and pear trees, as the supply had become so abundant that there was no longer any profit in raising those fruits for the farmers are followed by the farmers are fol longer any profit in raising those fruits for says: longer any profit in raising those fruits for the market. The same view is held by many other New England agriculturists. When pears can be kept until out of season, the grower can get good prices for them, but at present the profit in them, as well as other small fruits, seems to go almost entirely, if not quite, to middlemen and retailers. New Jersey grape growers also claim that the present 'prices for grapes do nof pay them for their trouble.

Referring to Senator Stanford's promise of reduced freight rates to the California

The fact is that but for the blind greed of the middlemen this market would be supplied asly from neighboring sources. rapacity of dealers, not content with reasonable profits, has practically killed the popular demand for fruit. Should California competition, operating through an exchange controlled by the fruit-growers of C. C. California can beat Sicily in oranges already, and may some day compete on equal terms with Florida. It will not, however, do for the California fruitsgrowers to put to much faith in the illimitability Savage..... of the Eastern market, and all hopes of controlling this market for pears, grapes and small fruits are simply illusory.

In the past the means employed to preserve California fruit have been but voyage three times as long. Most of the California fruit has thus far been absorbed rket for all such products as can stand the test of Eastern discrimination, and that of competition with foreign and nestion will quickly be determined when the fruit comes together in the Eastern market. California fruit-growers have a great future before them, perhaps, but they must understand thoroughly that before they can possess our markets they must conquer them, and that victory in all such enterprises is simply a question of the sur-vival of the fittest."

That sweeps away a whole city, starts from a flame so small that a glass of water would extinguish it. In like manner, the most painful and fatal maladies of the throat and lungs ordinarily develop from small beginnings, not difficult of cure if promptly treated with the proper remedy. But their progress is insidious and delay may be fatal. Colds and coughs lead to Laryngitis, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pneu-monia, and Consumption. The only medicine certain to cure every bronchial and pul-monary affection not absolutely incurable is

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During 40 years it has steadily grown in popular estimation, and is now a household reliance in many thousands of families. Parents, whose lives were preserved by AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL when they were young, are now sav-ing the lives of their children with it. Leading physicians extol its virtues and prescribe it in their practice. Intelligent druggists everywhere report noteworthy cures effected by it, within their personal knowledge.

I am a native of England, and while I was I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an out-door patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pains in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. Finelly, I completely lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and was treated at Roosevelt in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospitals.

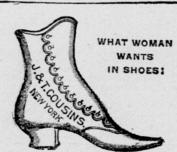

I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial. I took six bottles, and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life.
